International Day,2011

Last Friday, I was excited on International Day. Everyone in the auditorium watched beautiful performances which were prepared by students from each country. Some of those students prepared songs or dances. The performances were very delightful to my eyes and touched my heart deeply. The traditional costumes were very fancy and beautiful. In fact, I had participated in the performance twice before, but that day I was just a member of the audience.

After finishing everything, we enjoyed various kinds of food. That made my mouth water. Indeed, I had never seen some of the dishes before. I put delicious unique foods on my plate as much as I wanted. Especially, I really like spicy food. Whenever I eat it, my mouth burns. All of us enjoyed eating and talking with others instead of staying home alone. We took pictures with a happy smile. When I went around to the food tables, some people were trying to be funny, and I couldn't resist laughing. So we caught a happy virus and got recharged in a mental and physical way.

Actually, I have many acquaintances at school. International day connected us to become closer friends. I'm happy to have excellent teachers at school and to get more opportunities to learn.
